LEXINGTON OVERVIEW

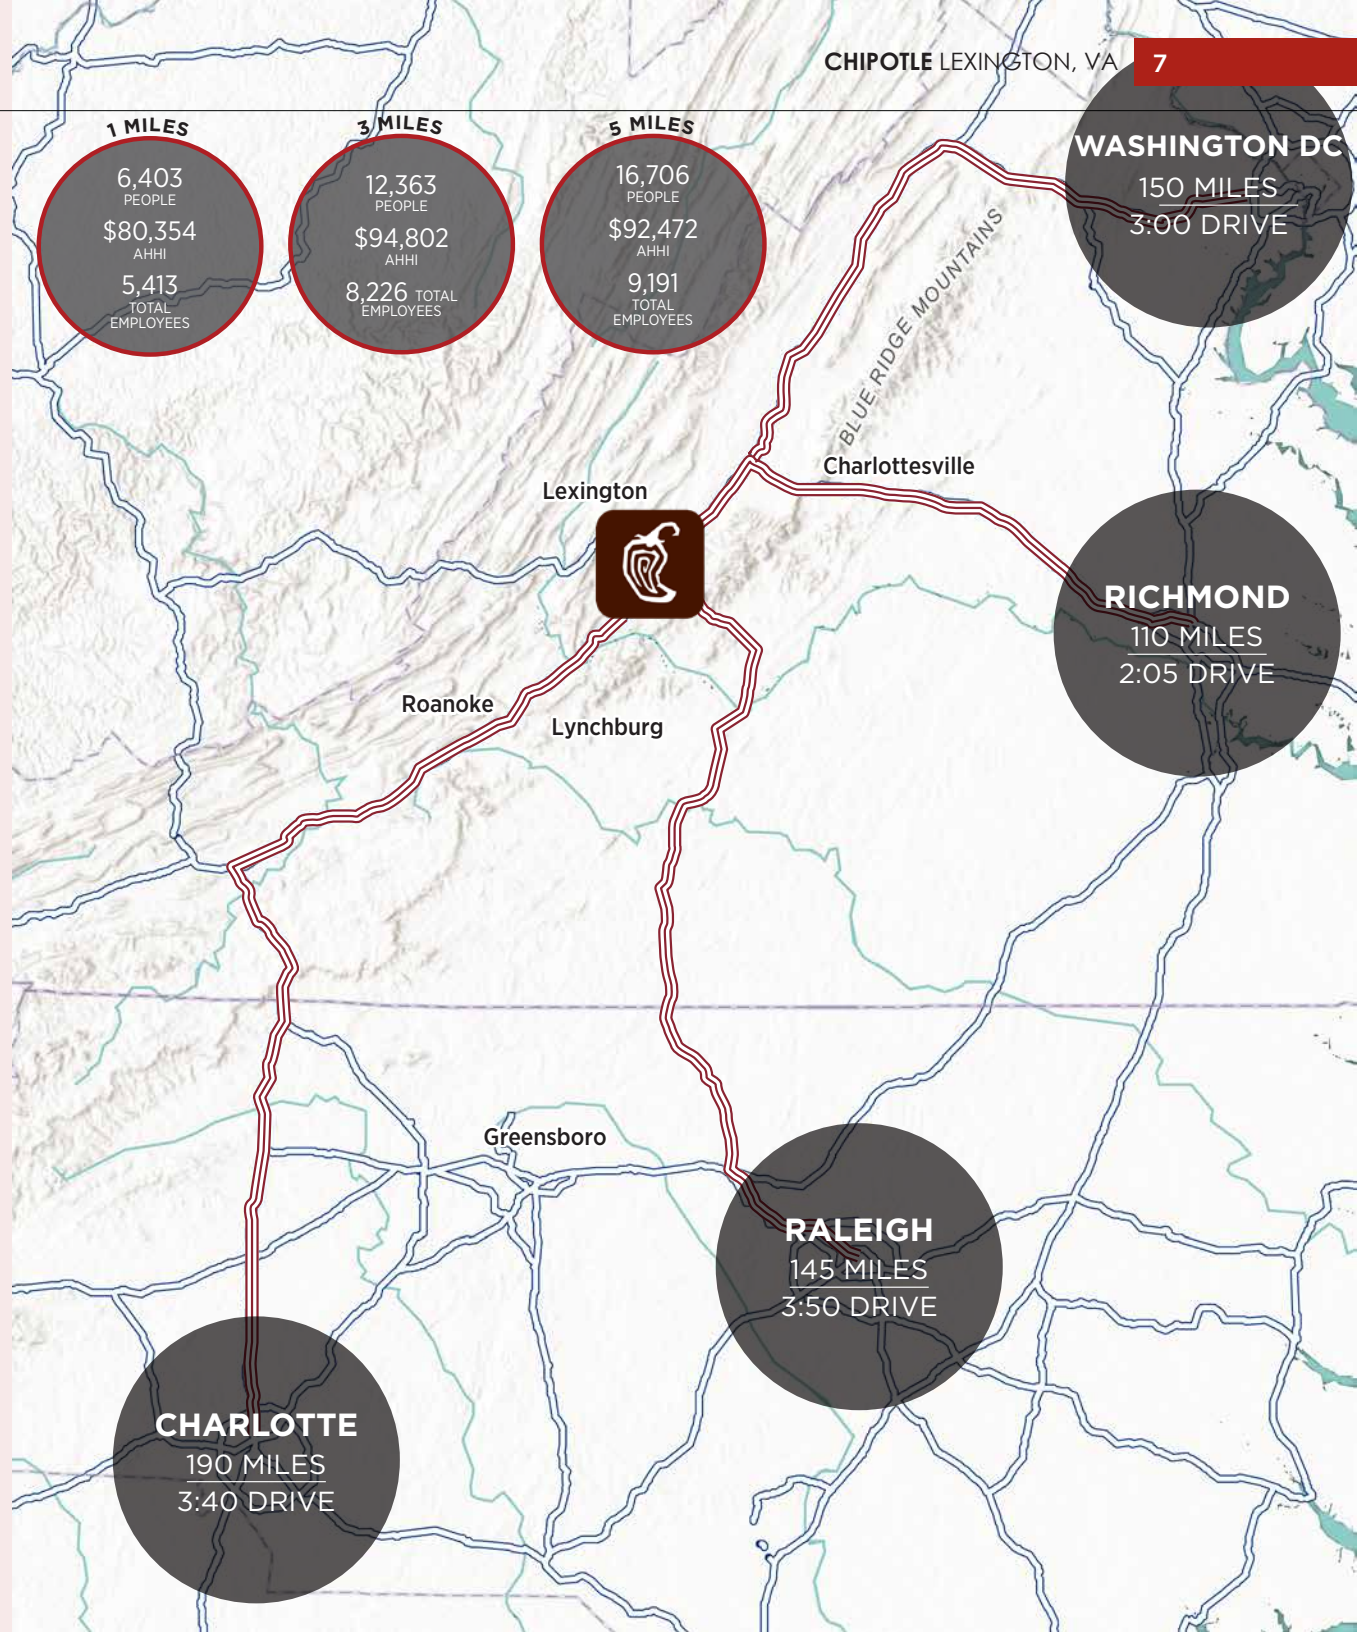

Lexington is a stable, education-anchored market within Virginia's Shenandoah Valley, supported by a combination of higher education, tourism, and regional connectivity. Washington and Lee University and Virginia Military Institute serve as primary economic drivers, providing a consistent population base and steady inflow of visitors throughout the year.

The market benefits from its location along Interstate 81 and Interstate 64, offering direct access to Roanoke, Charlottesville, and Richmond. This connectivity, combined with Lexington's historic downtown and tourism appeal, supports sustained retail demand despite its smaller population base.

Lexington sits at the intersection of Interstate 81 and Interstate 64, providing strong regional access across Virginia and the broader Mid-Atlantic. This connectivity allows the market to capture both local demand and pass-through traffic, a key dynamic for drive-thru oriented retail.

LEXINGTON - LOCATION HIGHLIGHTS

- Education-driven market anchored by Washington & Lee University and Virginia Military Institute
- ~4,000+ combined student population driving daily food and retail demand
- Approximately 15-20 schools within a 20-minute drive, supporting consistent daytime population
- Washington and Lee University is a highly selective liberal arts institution known for its rigorous academics, historic campus, and strong emphasis on honor, leadership, and undergraduate teaching excellence.

When Chipotle opened its first store in 1993, the idea was simple: demonstrate that food served fast didn't have to be a "fast-food" experience. Chipotle uses high-quality raw ingredients, classic cooking methods and distinctive interior design-features that are more frequently found in the world of fine dining. When the company was founded in 1993, there wasn't an industry category to describe their philosophy. Some 20 years and more than 3,700 restaurants later, Chipotle competes in a category of dining now called "fast-casual," the fastest growing segment of the restaurant industry, where customers expect food quality that's more in line with full-service restaurants, coupled with the speed and convenience of fast food.
