Located Off Interstate 80 Between San Francisco & Sacramento

Vacaville, the third-largest city in Solano County, has a 2025 estimated population of 103,672. The city sits 55 miles from San Francisco and 35 miles from Sacramento at the junction of Interstates 80 and 505, with San Francisco, Oakland, and Sacramento International Airports all within about an hour. Positioned between the Bay Area and the Sacramento region, Vacaville draws commerce, talent, and visitors well beyond its local market.

In recent years the city has strengthened its life-science and advanced-manufacturing profile. Swiss contract drug manufacturer Lonza acquired Genentech's large-scale biologics plant in Vacaville for $1.2 billion in 2025. The deal included retaining roughly 750 jobs and preserving one of the largest biologics manufacturing facilities in the world, and extending Lonza's US Biologics footprint. Amazon is simultaneously expanding its logistics footprint in Vacaville to about 2.1 million square feet, complementing established employers such as Kaiser Permanente, ICON Aircraft, Simonton Windows, Pacific Cycle, Mariani Packing Company, and Travis Credit Union. Vacaville offers incentives to attract additional employers, mindful that a large number of Solano County residents would prefer local jobs rather than daily commutes to Sacramento or the Bay Area. Many of these workers chose Vacaville for comparatively affordable housing and a strong quality of life while keeping positions in neighboring metros.

The Nut Tree Master Plan is adjacent to Nut Tree Airport, a 286-acre public-use facility owned by Solano County that averages more than 100,000 aircraft operations annually and supports over 200 based aircraft. The airport's role as a general aviation hub complements the presence of Travis Air Force Base (AFB), located just 10 miles away. Travis AFB is the busiest Air Force installation in the U.S. for cargo and passenger handling and is a major regional employer, with approximately 13,500 active duty personnel, civilian staff, and their families. It also houses the David Grant USAF Medical Center (DGMCO), the largest medical facility in the Air Force. In 2024, Travis AFB generated an estimated $3.7 billion in economic impact to the local economy.

Vacaville benefits from its close proximity to Davis, Sacramento, Napa, and the Bay Area. Transportation assets underpin the city's growth. Interstates 80 and 505 provide direct east-west and north-south links that connect California with national and international trade routes, and Caltrans is adding express lanes on I-80 through Fairfield and Vacaville that are slated to be fully operational by late 2025, easing congestion on a corridor that carries tens of millions of vehicles each year.

California's Legendary Road Stop

The subject property lies within the Nut Tree mixed-use, freeway-adjacent development, which offers approximately 400,000 square feet of retail, an amusement park and event space, 140,000 square feet of offices, and 216 planned residential units. It enjoys direct frontage on I-80 (171,000 ADT), near its junction with I-505, with multiple prominent monument signs and dedicated on- and off-ramps, delivering exceptional access and visibility. Co-tenancy at the Nut Tree retail center is strong, featuring HomeGoods, Cost Plus World Market, Best Buy, PetSmart, Nordstrom Rack, ULTA, Michael's, Old Navy, BevMo, Starbucks, Panera Bread, Five Guys, Buffalo Wild Wings, Chipotle, Fenton's Creamery, Jelly Belly, European Wax Center, Verizon, Sleep Number, and others.

The asset sits in a dense commercial corridor anchored by the 120-store Vacaville Premium Outlets, whose tenants include Nike, Crate & Barrel, Adidas, Levi's, Banana Republic, Columbia, Gap, Coach, Kate Spade, Le Creuset, Polo Ralph Lauren, West Elm, Crocs, J. Crew, Lacoste, New Balance, The North Face, Kay, Zwilling, and more. This center ranks among Northern California's highest-grossing outlets. Nearby retail nodes include Browns Valley Marketplace (Nugget Markets and Planet Fitness) and Vacaville Commons (Target, Safeway, Ross, Burlington). Additional major retailers in the vicinity are Walmart Supercenter, Sam's Club, Costco, WinCo Foods, Food 4 Less, Bowlero Vacaville, and others. Collectively, the retail at the I-80/I-505 interchange draw more than tens of millions of shoppers annually. Demographics are robust, with 262,273 residents within 10 miles and an average household income of $139,757 within 5 miles.

The Nut Tree Master Plan is adjacent to Nut Tree Airport, a general-aviation facility handling more than 100,000 aircraft operations per year. It is also less than three miles from Kaiser Permanente Vacaville, the city's largest employer with over 1,300 staff. Adjacent to Kaiser are the Lonza (formerly Genentech) campus and the new Axiom Point project, a 23-acre research, development, and biomanufacturing complex totaling 390,000 square feet across three state-of-the-art buildings, which will significantly expand local life-sciences employment. Other daily traffic drivers to the immediate area include Travis Credit Union's headquarters, Vacaville Cultural Center, Centennial Park & Sports Fields, and multiple schools.
